“L'utilisation inattendue du verre, structurel et vertical, se devait d'atteindre un caractère de simplicité et d'évidence propre au luxe. Que les matériaux s'expriment au mieux, que la technologie disparaisse, intégrée non pas négligée, et que la seule impression qui reste soit celle d'une sereine élégance.”

“The unusual use of glass as a vertical structure achieves luxury and simplicity. The technology used in the core materials is expertly integrated in the product, so that only a clean and elegant impression is left to the user's and visitor's eye.”

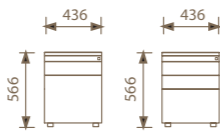

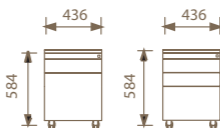

Emmanuel Dietrich, designer.
